As I have stated previously in these columns I was going to give you an anatomy of Gadgetry on the installment plan, partly to acquaint you with that empirical emporium of impedimenta,

"Gadgets unlimited," partly to dispel your abysmal ignorance of the American manufacturing potential, past, present and super pluperfect, but chiefly to help sell copies of this rag for my friend Mike Gould. Well this here anatomy has done a double Frankenstein on me and I have got to the point (or pink elephant stage) where everything looks like a gadget including my wife (not for sale right now; she is working) on account of we got some new things--kind of marginal gadgets, you might say--like a new copper and brass polish, Kop-R-Gleam--it's wonderful; stuff to keep food from sticking to pans if you gotta fry all time--it's Pantastic--stuff to get the fog out of closets--it's wonderful--it's De-Moist; stuff to keep salt and crackers dry--it's wonderful--it's Blue Magic Ever Crisp; stuff you mix with water for dry (are you kidding) cleaning...it's Re-Clean. Bet I don't get my pants back from Village Cleaners now! Chee wheez, Keed, que paso!*

Carmel Work Center Notes

By Carol Tindell

There is something extra-special on display at the Carmel Work Center this week...charming Redwood Bird Houses and Feeding Stations made by Frank La Fontaine. These Bird Houses have that quaint Carmel charm... beautifully made too. They are hard to find, you know, so we feel you should take a minute to see them. If you feed and house your "feathered friends" they may retaliate by not dining off your prize flowers.

Are there any craftsmen in Carmel who have been wanting to drop in to see us but have been too busy? If so, just call Douglas Fisher at 7-6990 and he will be happy to talk to you about your work.

Have we told you about Glen Minshall's "Pansy Vases"? They are the solution as to how to arrange short-stemmed flowers and not have them look as though you just shoved them into a vase and gave up. These vases are not only very attractive...very clever...but also very inexpensive.

If you haven't received one of our catalogs (guaranteed to make Christmas buying easy and fun) it's not because we don't want you to have one; it's just that we don't have your address. So please give us your address and we will send you a catalog.

Come see us soon...at the shop in the Seven Arts Building or the one at the DelMonte Lodge.

DUNCAN FASHION SHOW A COMPLETE SUCCESS

The Harriet Duncan Fashion Show at the Pine Inn Wednesday was admirably presented to an enthusiastic gathering. The theme was "Sing a Song of Separates," and many versatile combinations covered the field of clothes from teenage through "town and country," from pretty hostess dresses to glamorous evening wear.

The clothes were sound and simple, with an easy, comfortable cut. More color for town and country wear was stressed. There were sweaters, plaid slacks, plaid pleated skirts, imported wool challi blouses, felt skirts with appliqued trim, a braided matador skirt effectively worn with a soft sequin-trimmed velveteen and felt-embroidered skirt, a velveteen jumper that can be worn with a blouse or by itself as an evening dress, and an imported wool challi skirt with sequin trim. All these, and many more exciting creations.

The models were Pat Horn, Barbara Berg, Deborah Geering, Margaret Luker, Kathleen Whitaker, Joanne Nix, Jerry Champlain, Joyce Hare, Yvonne Kemp, Mrs. Tony Kastros, Lois Whetstone, Mrs. Dalziel, Alice Whelass and Sherry Henderson. Miss Duncan was the commentator.

When the Kiwanis Club of Carmel celebrated National Newspaper Week on October 5 they didn't know that they had among their members an ex-newspaper editor in the person of Jim Burkholder of the Village Cleaners. The week before Jim had won a camera and a press badge at the club meeting and, when he had to explain his authority to use them, he said that for one week he had taken over his father's paper in a small Kentucky town. One week was enough. He likes the cleaning business. The photograph above shows Harold Nielson, left, chairman for the day, Burkholder (complete with press badge) and new Kiwanis member, Frank Putnam. POLAROID One-Minute Photograph.

"A party for the whole town," is the way Hull describes the event. It is given for kids of Carmel, young, old, and in between, by Carmel's Kiwanians, with the help of their friends. They sponsor it, run it, pick up the check, and clean up afterwards. And they consider it a privilege to do it!

Who Runs America?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

General Federation of Women's Clubs
American Farm Bureau
Federation
National Grange
Veterans of Foreign Wars
National Conference of Catholic Charities
American Protestant Hospital Association

American Legion
National Association of
Small Business Men
United States Chamber of Commerce
National Association of
Retail Grocers
National Retail Dry Goods
Association

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

*An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind.
Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that*

Carmel's new 38-year-old chief of police, Clyde Klaumann, is a definite "break" for our village, and his selection by Andy Martin, police commissioner, Mayor Knight and the other councilmen is tribute to their ability in selecting the right man for the right job.

Clyde Klaumann likes Carmel, and as you see and meet him around town you will get to know an honest, conscientious, capable police officer. He is a graduate of the FBI National Academy in Washington. He has been a member of the Monterey police for 14 years and, until his resignation to take the Carmel position, was a lieutenant on that force. During the war, Klaumann served for two years in the Navy. He is a member of the American Legion, the Elks and is a past president of the Monterey County Peace Officers' Association.

Chief Klaumann, who takes over his new duties a week from today, is married and has a son, Clyde Roy, 11. His wife, Ruth, works for M. J. Murphy, in Carmel. At the present time the family lives in Monterey, but expects to move to Carmel in the near future.

W. W. PARKER of the LeMon Realty Company doesn't believe in all the new-fangled contraptions that have become a part of modern living--at least not where photography is concerned. For the last 25 years he has owned--and has been using regularly--an Agfa Ansco camera that hasn't once had the lens opening or the shutter speed changed. He's shot all his pictures at f16 and 1/25 of a second, and his record to date--well, the picture above is a good example. Rain or shine, the camera has proved itself reliable. The above shot of Carmel Mission and, beyond, Point Lobos, was taken recently from Hatton Road just off the State Highway.

MANY UNUSUAL BREEDS WILL BE SHOWN AT DEL MONTE DOG SHOW

Know what a Hungarian Pulik is? It's been described as a cross between a Hungarian rhapsody and a Hungarian goulash, but actually, it's one of the breeds of dog that will be represented at the Del Monte Kennel Club dog show Sunday at Del Monte Lodge.

More than 500 entries have been received for the show, an increase of 100 over last year. And there will be more than 57 varieties--for 66 different breeds have been entered. Not all of them are the kind that are seen on the Peninsula every day, either.

In addition to the Pulik, which in its own country is a herding dog, some of the other unusual breeds that will be on hand are the Weimarener, a German dog said by many to be the finest hunter in the world;

the Great Pyranee, a Spanish import; the Rhodesian lion hound, a breed used to hunt lions on the east coast of Africa and introduced into this country by Errol Flynn, and the Welsh Corgi, the favorite of King George of England, whose daughter Princess Elizabeth owns several.

There will be 22 Great Pyrenees entered in the show, the largest representation of the breed ever seen in this country outside of New York. Many of the better-known breeds will also be shown, with an unexpectedly large number of entries coming from local persons.

During the day there will be two obedience test shows and two performances by the war-trained Doberman Pinchers of Captain C. A. Roy of Richmond.

The show will begin at 9 A.M. and will end at approximately 7 P.M., with something happening, club members say, every minute. Proceeds will be given to Peninsula Pets and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Permanent benching facilities have been provided for this year's show.

CLIFF L. JONES OF CARMEL HONORED

Cliff L. Jones of Carmel, Peninsula Buick dealer, has just received a signal honor by being chosen one of fourteen Buick dealers in the United States to be invited back to Detroit for a conference on dealer problems. Mr. Jones left Tuesday, flying to Detroit for the meeting. It will be a top level session, presided over by Charles Wilson, head of General Motors.

Another Carmelite with the Peninsula Automobile, Buick distributors, Frederick Stanley, is now in Flint, Michigan, attending the General Motors Dealership Management Training program. He is one of 35 men from 20 states selected by General Motors divisions to participate in the program during the months of September and October.

The eight-week program is designed to provide advance training in the principles of the effective operation of a General Motors dealership and was developed by key staff and divisional men in General Motors automotive distribution. It includes study in dealership accounting, management and administration, finances, new and used car sales, service and parts merchandising. Also included are courses in organization, dealing with people, financial control, development of plans and presentation of ideas.

A SERVICE FOR DISCRIMINATING BUYERS

Please say you saw it in the SPECTATOR...That will help me have a better column. --Betsy Abbott.

DOES A FISH SWIM? DO BIRDS FLY? This time it isn't about either of these, but about sea shells. Marine animals aren't the only ones who know how to put sea shells to good use. This week I talked to a very talented woman, Mrs. Louis Conlan, while she was busily painting her new shop (in the former location of Conlan and Geisen) across from the Pine Inn. She tells me that the shop, LYNN'S LIMITED, will open October 25, and that she will sell clothes cut from textiles she has designed.

Mrs. Conlan has used and combined in many unusual ways shell designs of all sizes, shapes and hues. The color and the lines of these abstractions derived from shells are unique and fresh, and the fabrics will also be made up into scarves and blouses. In addition to her pure dye silks, she has designed hand-screened cottons for beach wear. One pattern is a cross between a Batik and tapa design, cleverly using the ginger flower as the motif. LYNN'S LIMITED will also carry a line of suits from Evans of Beverly Hills, including gabardines, wools and tweeds.

Mrs. Conlan has spent years traveling around the world studying marine life. The inspiration she has received from what she has seen has been transmitted to these misty, out-of-this-world fabrics. The best of luck to LYNN'S LIMITED!

Carl H. Ralke's CARMEL CAMERA SHOP, on the corner of 5th and San Carlos, opened October 5. Mr. Ralke is here as a result of having frequently visited--and liked--the Peninsula during the last 20 years.

His service is new to this community. He has a complete 8mm. and 16mm. film rental library. This shop will also feature the sale of 8mm. and 16mm. movie equipment and slide equipment, along with all popular brands of miniature and reflex-type cameras.

LITTLE GIRLS ARE MADE OF SUGAR AND SPICE and everything nice--and there are plenty of such nice things at the newly-opened LEE MILLER'S COSMETIC BAR at 471 Alvarado Street, Monterey. And the little girls aren't the only ones taken into consideration there--the men get a nod, too.

Women can have a field day choosing the perfumes and toiletries that suit them from the famous lines of Lussy, Elmo, Du Barry, Houbigant, Dana's Tabu, White Shoulders, Revlon, Max Factor, Harriet H. Ayer, Schiaparelli, Prince Matchabelli and others. For the men there are King's Men, Courtley and Lactopine and Sportsmen brands to name a few, and all sorts of other nice after-shave accessories. Then, too, LEE MILLER'S COSMETIC BAR has toiletries of all kinds--hair and hand preparations, bath powder, feminine hygiene needs, baby preparations, dental pastes and powders, and, in the Little Lady line, Hop-a-long Cassidy "Roundup Bubble Bath." Gift wrapping is also a specialty at LEE MILLER'S COSMETIC BAR.

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR BETTER KNOWN BRANDS of bra and foundation garments that fit and flatter? If so, Mrs. Retta Calhoun can help you. She owns the RHETTA CALHOUN CORSET SHOP at 108 Webster, Monterey, opposite the post office. Mrs. Calhoun, who has had a background of 35 years experience, qualifies expertly to help you choose the garment you need from her stock of beautifully-styled quality merchandise, created by the finest of bra and foundation garment designers. Mrs. Calhoun pointed out that a good bra that fits well can also be very pretty, so if you need comfortable and attractive garments of this nature, the RHETTA CALHOUN CORSET SHOP is the place to go.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO MAKE A GOOD INVESTMENT? Mrs. Dean of the CINDERELLA SHOP (next to the Bank of Carmel) tells me that she doesn't like to talk about wool clothes any more because she has mentioned them so much, but she does feel she must tell her customers that she is receiving notices in all of her shipments that the price of wool garments is going up, and all future orders will have a mark-up.

We can't say what has caused this. We don't like to think it is profiteering. Heavens!--not that! It seems that there have been droughts in Australia where a lot of our wool comes from. Under the circumstances it would be wise to purchase that wool suit or coat you need now rather than to wait any longer. You will find that it will be a good investment, and as Mrs. Dean has proven her styles to be very advanced, it would be a good idea to go to THE CINDERELLA SHOP and make your selection now.

ARE YOU DOING A LITTLE EARLY CHRISTMASSHOPPING? If so, drop in at the POOR SCHOLAR BOOK SHOP on Polk and Hartnell in Monterey. Their Christmas cards are the cream from 18 top sources. No packaged group is involved...instead, the best have been selected, with great emphasis on the 5¢ card.

The same applies to their gift wrappings...chosen from many sources. There are some very attractive ones with rich solid backgrounds and elegant small abstractions very suggestive of the Yuletide season. If you want a modern, distinctive note to your packages or a merry old-fashioned one, there is a great choice of both kinds.

In the children's room there are so many fascinating things I'll be able to mention only a few. There are train and cowboy books for a dollar. The train book opens up into cars. One called "Little Choo Choo Tales" is very cute...each car has one or two little story books tucked into it. This will give a child a wonderfully exciting trip on a friendly train.

There are also three dimensional books for $1.00 showing the stories of Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves and Cinderella.

The religious books include a Bible with glorious illustrations. The illustrations of Noah and his Ark could keep a child busy for hours trying to identify all the animals. THE POOR SCHOLAR BOOK SHOP also caters to the teen-age group. They have a wonderful collection of the classics. I won't list them because you know them, but if you want a bit of "The Old Curiosity Shop" in a very snug modern way, go to THE POOR SCHOLAR BOOK SHOP for some early Christmas shopping.

The new law reenacts the Sabotage Prevention Act of 1941, with several strengthening provisions. It specifically covers situations, such as the present action in Korea, in which the United States is assisting the United Nations to restore international peace and security.

Penalties of death or life imprisonment may be imposed for acts of sabotage involving death or bodily injury, and maximums of 20 years and/or $10,000 fine are prescribed for other cases. Under the previous law the maximum penalties were 10 years and/or $10,000 fine.

WHARF PLAYERS WILL GIVE TWO ORIGINAL DRAMAS

One of the Wharf Players' main objectives, that of creating an experimental theater, will be achieved shortly with the presentation of two original plays by local authors.

The plays are "Death on Sunday," a psychological murder vehicle by Dan Totheroh, director of the Wharf Players and well-known playwright, and "Point of Departure" by Bruce Ariss, local author and artist. They will be produced at the Wharf Theater during the months of November and December.

Totheroh has announced that readings for "Death on Sunday" will be held Monday at 8 P.M. at the Wharf Theater on Old Fisherman's Wharf in Monterey. The date for the casting of "Point of Departure," a play with a controversial theme that should prove exciting and thought-provoking, will be announced shortly.

"Moor Born," Totheroh's play about the famous Bronte sisters, has been revived in New York by a group called the Thirteen Players. It opened October 5.

WHARF PLAYERS DO RIGHT BY "THE HAPPIEST YEARS"

"The Happiest Years" by Thomas Coley and William Roerick, currently being presented at the Wharf Theater in Monterey, is a comedy of American family life that, after a long string of plays and motion pictures about the humorous aspects of said American family life, seems more than a little familiar.

But perhaps this was the intention of the authors, for when you get right down to it the funniest lines in the play are the cliches that have become, through the years, an easily recognizable part of Standard American. In the characters of Morton and Florence Graves, by whom most of the stock phrases are uttered, the authors have given everything they had to the creation of the traveling business man and the wife who travels with him--the convention-attending, back-slapping, practical-joking couple who understand perfectly the use of the pocket flask and who know a good joke when they hear one that's obvious enough.

As Aunt Flo and Uncle Mort, Betty Fowleston and Kenn I. Smith take the top acting honors of the evening--which means, in view of the competition from the rest of the cast, that they did terrific jobs. Miss Fowleston especially seems right at home in her role--so much so (with no insult intended) that those few in the audience who have no relatives of their own, either close or distant, are the only ones who can possibly receive an impression that she is acting at all.

"The Happiest Years" is a story of life in a mid-Western college town incidentally, but specifically it's the young married couple vs. mother-in-law story--the sort of thing that would never have happened if Mother had locked herself in the closet and stayed there.

Dee Olivetti is excellent in the role of the nagging woman for whom nothing is ever right. Hers is a long part which calls for an unsympathetic characterization almost until the time of the last curtain, and it is to her credit that she keeps Clara Graves from becoming (just barely) the type of person who in real life might find ground glass in her food every now and then. As it is, something of the sort probably crosses the minds of the rest of the family occasionally, but they're all good people, you know, and the authors probably felt they shouldn't mention the fact.

As Clara Graves' daughter, Beverly Porter gives an ingratiating performance. The smallness of the Wharf Theater makes it possible for the actors to use normal speaking voices, and Miss Porter takes advantage of this as well as anyone. Her warm portrayal of a girl torn between her husband and her mother was perfectly natural and winning from first to last.

Others in the cast also contribute much to the overall effect: Bill Fort as the understanding and more-than-a-little resigned father, Alex Olivetti as the harried son-in-law studying biology while the family battles rage around him, Darrel Henderson as the friendly, helpful student who is the "other woman" in the eyes of the mother-in-law, and Bee Mouser as the timid librarian who rents a room in the Graves house and who, in her mousey make-up and costume, looks like something straight out of "The Wind in the Willows."

And a special word should be said for Burton Minkin's performance as Roger Littlefield, a fraternity pledge who, in need of a date with "an older woman," comes to the house to ask the young heroine if she'll accompany him to a dance. She does, and Minkin's Roger Littlefield is the type who will remember with undying gratitude for the rest of his life. It's a high spot in the play every time he opens his mouth to speak.

You have seen "The Happiest Years" before, with names of characters changed and perhaps a few little twists of the plot that weren't identical, but it's definitely famil-

This week the Carmel Youth Center is approximately $600 to the good--as a result of the Carmel Dollar Day Sale held Saturday. The 40 participating merchants, who offered the public dollar bargains, turned over from 25% to 100% of their sales to the Youth Center. Not the least of these bargains were the dollar bills that the Bank of Carmel was selling for 50¢ each.

The success of the event, the first of its kind in Carmel, has brought about a general opinion that a similar bargain day should be held once a year. Oscar Balzer, chairman of the Dollar Day committee, has extended thanks to participating merchants, to the Carmel High School girls who acted as sales-ladies, and to the public whose support was so necessary for a successful sale.

The pictures at right show a few of the people who were on the streets Saturday.

The California State Amateur golf championship at Pebble Beach last week brought forth much interesting play and some upsets. The above photograph by Julian P. Graham shows part of the large crowd that followed the match. The weather was ideal, as it usually is at the Del Monte Properties golf courses. Winner of the championship this year was Robert Gardner of Los Angeles.

COUNTYWIDE RALLY FOR NIXON PACKS ALISAL AUDITORIUM

First major countywide rally of the current political campaign was held last night at Alisal School Auditorium. Following special entertainment highlighted by "Big Jim" DeNoon, and his orchestra, Richard Nixon spoke to hundreds of supporters.

Nixon, candidate for Senate and the man personally responsible for cracking the Alger Hiss case, declared, "We must learn once and for all that strength is the only language the realistic men in the Kremlin understand."

"You can be sure there will be more Koreans if we relax our defenses; if we again face the threat of Communist aggression with boys 17 who have had only five months of training, in the front lines.

"We must make sure that in future we are strong. This means not only military preparedness. We must cut non-essential domestic expenditure to the bone so that our preparedness program can be placed on a pay-as-you-go basis to the greatest possible extent."

Next Tuesday (October 17) in King City, Mrs. Loring Burns will preside when a large group of women from Southern Monterey County is scheduled to hear the famous author, Kathleen Norris, speak on the vital issues of the senatorial campaign. Another prominent writer, to be announced, will also speak.

Nixon headquarters have been opened on the Monterey Peninsula at 485 Lighthouse, Monterey, with Dolly Madison Hisgen as chairman.

COLONEL LANGEVIN NAMED DEPUTY POST COMMANDER

Colonel Joseph L. Langevin, commanding officer of Headquarters, Special Troops, has been named as deputy post commander of Fort Ord and the Presidio of Monterey.

Colonel Langevin's appointment fills the vacancy created by the re-assignment of Brigadier General Gerald J. Higgins, who came to Fort Ord October 15, 1949. General Higgins recently was assigned to the Office of the Chief of Army Field Forces, Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

NAVY LEAGUE ACTIVITIES

There will be an informal dinner-dance tonight (Friday) at the Officers' Club at the Navy Line School under the auspices of the Monterey Peninsula Navy League. The entertainment will be in honor of Rear Admiral Betram J. Rodgers, commandant of the 12th Naval District.

During the evening Admiral Rodgers will speak on the subject "Problems of Alaska Today." His talk will be illustrated with motion pictures he has taken in Alaska.

Last Friday at luncheon the Navy League heard an inspired talk by Frank Hecht, of Chicago, national president of the Navy League. Mr. Hecht told of his conception of the Navy League as a patriotic society of civilians who must be ever alert to protect the Navy from political interference. He denounced the appointment of General Marshall as Defense Chief as a political move for the purpose of taking the administration off the "hot seat." Allan Knight, mayor of Carmel and Peninsula realtor, is president of the local Navy League.

OHIO WILDLIFE WILL BE SUBJECT OF SCREEN TOUR

The local branch of the National Audubon Society will present the first of this season's Screen Tours Saturday, October 14, at Sunset Auditorium.

The lecturer, Mr. Karl Maslowski, is an engaging personality, dramatic showman, outstanding photographer, and keen naturalist--a happy combination which has put him in the top brackets of the lecture field.

He will present "Beneath Buckeye Skies," a colored motion picture of wildlife in his native state of Ohio. This land of rolling hills and fertile fields, of quiet streams and hardwood forests, provides the background, the habitat and environment for varied and thriving wildlife communities.

The film is a documentary study in natural color of the woodcock, the neat little deer-mouse and an amusing fox family, cubs and all. Weird and fantastic larvae transform to beautiful butterflies. Screech owls and tigerish least shrews, small yet fierce, play leading roles. Karl Maslowski captures on film the wild creatures, large and small, winged and afoot, which form parts of inter-balanced wildlife communities of the "Beautiful Ohio" country.

Audubon members will give a dinner for Mr. Maslowski at the Pine Inn before the lecture. Those desiring to attend should notify Mrs. Isabelle Terhune (telephone 7-6028).
